When NAADAC calls on Capitol Hill, my colleagues and I pay attention. You bring the wisdom that results from your members’ hand-on work, not to mention your vision and determination. Addiction is one of America’s most serious public health challenges, and your members are needed to meet it.

– former Representative Patrick J. Kennedy (D-Ri)

Welcome to the Addiction Leadership Summit

We are glad you are here! If this is your first time to Washington, D.C., or you are returning to the nation’s capital, we welcome you on behalf of TCA, SAAS and NAADAC. You are truly participating in a process that is the foundation of the “American Experiment.” No doubt you have other demands in your life, yet you have chosen to be here with one purpose, to speak and be heard by your congressional leaders. We commend you for the sacrifices you have made and thank you for your leadership.

As the Presidents of our three organizations, we are pleased to serve as the co-hosts for this meeting. Our organizations have a long history of working to advance the interest of addiction-focused professionals and organizations, and those efforts have culminated in this summit. Working together we will have a larger voice, be more effective and have a greater impact. We know firsthand the needs of the people we serve. We are their voice as well as the voice of an essential system of services. Our work to prevent substance use disorders, treat the disease, and support recovery hastens people back to work, reunites families and creates safer communities. But most importantly it gives people their lives back.

Over the next two days we will have the opportunity to impart and gather information with members of Congress. We will receive up-to-date information on the issues that impact us the most: funding for services, workforce development, and the implementation of parity and other healthcare reforms. We will hear from top Federal officials regarding their initiatives to support our profession and ensure access to services. The agenda includes the opportunity to have breakfast with our addiction advocates in Congress and then meet with Representatives and Senators so that they can hear directly from us about front-line issues. We will also take time to say thank you to two particular friends on the Hill: Senator Tom Harkin of Iowa and Lisa Bernhardt, Staff to the Appropriations Subcommittee on Labor, Health and Human Services, Education and Related Agencies.

Finally, we look forward to this time with you. Take the time to meet with your association’s leaders while you are here. Please do not hesitate to approach any of us to speak and share your thoughts and questions.

Again welcome, and enjoy these days of advocacy with your colleagues in the addiction profession.

Sincerely,

Constance Peters, President of the State Associations of Addiction Services
Robert C. Richards, MA, NCAC II, CADC III, President of NAADAC, the Association for Addiction Professionals

This Briefing will focus on state and national issues related to the SAPT Block Grant and the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA) to raise awareness and educate the addiction profession to the coming changes as the ACA is implemented. Crossover issues include the continuum of care for patient services.

The Advocacy Leadership Summit will present awards to two long-time friends of the field and thank them for their outstanding service. Recognition Awards presented by the Iowa State Association at the Award Breakfast and Briefing on the Hill.

Award Recipient: Senator Tom Harkin

Tom Harkin was born in Cumming, Iowa on November 19, 1939, the son of an Iowa coal miner father and a Slovenian immigrant mother. In 1984, after serving ten years in the U.S. House of Representatives, he was elected to the U.S. Senate. In November 2008, Tom made history by becoming the first Iowa Democrat to win a fifth term in the U.S. Senate.

As a young senator, Harkin crafted legislation to protect the civil rights of millions of Americans with physical and mental disabilities. What emerged from that process would later become his signature legislative achievement: the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

As a member of the Senate Health, Education, Labor and Pensions (HELP) Committee, he crafted the prevention and wellness title of the health reform bill, The Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act. This historic investment in prevention across the full spectrum — at the federal, clinical and community level — was signed into law as part of health reform. In September 2009, following the death of Senator Ted Kennedy, Tom became chairman of the Senate Health, Education, Labor and Pensions (HELP) Committee.

Award Recipient: Lisa Bernhardt, Labor HHS Education Appropriations Subcommittee

Lisa Bernhardt, MPP, is a Professional Staff Member for the Majority on the U.S. Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Labor, Health and Human Services and Education. During her past ten years on the Subcommittee Bernhardt has had oversight and funding responsibility for a wide range of social service and health accounts. Her current responsibilities include negotiating funding levels for programs relating to the Older Americans Act, healthcare quality, substance abuse and mental health, bioterrorism and pandemic influenza. Having worked on both sides of the aisle, for both Senator Arlen Specter and Senator Tom Harkin, Bernhardt works in a non-partisan fashion, focusing on the needs of individuals and programs, not politics.

Sightseeing in Washington, D.C.
The nation’s capital has many unique attractions, including the national monuments, sporting events and museums. For a free visitor’s guide and a comprehensive list of attractions and events, please contact the Washington, D.C., Convention and Tourism Corporation at www.washington.org or call 202.789.7000.

Nearby attractions and their approximate distance from the hotel include:

Potomac River Walk (0.2 miles): When the United States became a nation, Alexandria developed tobacco warehouses, mills and loading facilities to move both tobacco and milled grains such as wheat and corn to seagoing ships. While deep water ports like Baltimore and New York became the hubs of commerce, the Potomac has a beautiful riverside path that provides an unmatched view of the Capitol and a glimpse into the past.

Gadsby’s Tavern Museum (0.5 miles): Named after Englishman John Gadsby, the site known as Gadsby’s Tavern consists of two buildings, a (circa) 1785 tavern and the 1792 City Hotel. Notable visitors, aside from yourselves, include George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, James Madison and James Monroe.

King Street (0.5 miles): King Street offers history, dining and shopping in the heart of Alexandria’s Old Town. The city offers a free King Street Trolley between the King Street Metrorail Station and the Potomac River waterfront. The trolley operates along the one-and-a-half-mile route seven days a week from 11:30 am to 10 pm.

Torpedo Factory Art Center (0.5 miles): The Torpedo Factory is the highlight of Alexandria’s Potomac River waterfront, attracting approximately 500,000 visitors annually. Visit 82 artists’ studios, six galleries, two workshops and the Alexandria Archaeology Museum. Sign up for an art class with The Art League School. Then stroll along the waterfront, shop and sightsee on nearby historic streets, have a picnic on the dock behind the art center, or eat in the area’s many fine restaurants.

Arlington National Cemetery (6 miles): The grounds of Arlington National Cemetery honor those who have served our nation by providing a sense of beauty and peace for our guests. The rolling green hills are dotted with trees that are hundreds of years in age and complement the gardens found throughout the 624 acres of the cemetery. This impressive landscape serves as a tribute to the service and sacrifice of every individual laid to rest within the hallowed grounds of Arlington National Cemetery. The cemetery’s rolling hills mark the final resting place for more than 14,000 veterans, including those that fought in the Civil War.

D.C. Museums and Memorials (6 miles): The Smithsonian Institution — the world’s largest museum and research complex — includes 19 museums and galleries and the National Zoological Park. The National Mall includes the Lincoln Memorial, the Washington Monument, the Martin Luther King, Jr. Memorial, the Jefferson Memorial, the U.S. Capitol and the White House.

Mount Vernon (9 miles): George Washington and his wife Martha Washington lived at Mount Vernon, which is now the most popular historic estate in America. Guests to Mount Vernon can visit the Mansion, more than a dozen original structures, Washington’s Tomb and nearly 50 acres of his extensive plantation.
