Learning Motivational Interviewing Through Practice

Client's Statement	Counselor's Response
I just can't stand it when he whines just to hear himself talk!	Example: You feel angry when it seems like he complains for no reason.
I guess sometimes I wonder if it's gotten out of hand.
It's impossible to stop using marijuana, plus it's not even bad for you
Whenever I ask for help, I get rejected. I never want to ask anyone for help ever again.
My roommate needs to clean up the room and I swear if he doesn't get his act together I'm going to lose it!
I don't think that my lying is a problem. I never lie directly; I just leave information out.	