Welcome to the NAADAC Annual Conference!

As NAADAC President, I, the Texas Association of Addiction Profession (TAAP), and NAADAC’s partners welcome you to the 2018 NAADAC Annual Conference: Shoot for the Stars. We are thrilled to be holding our conference in Houston and celebrating NAADAC’s 46th Anniversary! Houston and Texas have provided the country with a variety of historic and momentous times throughout our rich American history, blazing the way for our western movement and growth. We are hoping that in addition to the time you spend here at the conference, you will take advantage of the many wonderful historic and cultural venues that are available.

This year’s conference not only includes a variety of national keynote and plenary speakers, but also an agenda full of workshops covering the latest innovations, best practices, trends, and issues that impact all addiction-focused professionals, address challenges, and advance the treatment of addiction and substance use disorders. I have no doubt that you will find the selection impressive and the content of any one of these workshops or speaker sessions full of new and innovative approaches to treatment.

The conference isn’t all about learning, however. It is also about networking and having fun! As in the past, we will be recognizing contributions to the addiction profession and outstanding achievement efforts at our awards luncheon. You’ll have plenty of time networking during breaks in the Exhibit Hall, the Opening Reception, Regional and International Caucus meetings, Movie night, and a Comedy Show. You will be moved as you experience the special exhibit, Letter to My Mother, and laugh during Mark Lundholm’s hilarious Perfekty Broken show on Monday night. I also encourage you to come to the NAADAC Education & Research Foundation (NERF) Auction on Sunday night for music and fun, all while supporting all of the important work funded by NERF. It is open to all!

NAADAC’s Exhibit Hall features over 80 exhibitors featuring products, services, and resources. I encourage you to stop by and visit these hosting exhibitors. Attendees have the opportunity to win prizes from exhibitors and NAADAC through its Exhibitor Passport game.

The NAADAC Executive Committee and Board of Directors will be conducting business meetings during the conference and will be available to you to help with any issues you may have. Please feel free to approach any of us while at the conference. As President, I personally hope to meet as many of you as possible and learn what the needs are in your home states. Stop me at any time and I will be happy to meet with you and discuss any issue or to just say hi!

In closing, I want to thank all of the wonderful sponsors and partners for their support in this year’s conference. We couldn’t have put it together without you and I hope to meet with as many of you as possible.

I also want to thank Executive Director Cynthia Moreno Tuohy, the NAADAC staff, and the Texas affiliate for all of their hard work in putting this conference together on top of their already demanding schedules. I thoroughly hope you enjoy Houston and the conference!

Gerard Schmidt, MA, LPC, MAC
NAADAC President

CONTINUING EDUCATION APPROVAL

Participants may earn up to 43 Continuing Education (CE) Hours. This educational program has been approved and accredited, and is accepted for continuing education hours by the following:

This program has been approved by NAADAC, the Association for Addiction Professionals for continuing education credits. NAADAC Provider # 189.

NAADAC, the Association for Addiction Professionals has been approved by California Association for Alcohol/Drug Educators (CAADE) (#CP30 696 P 0000).

The American Probation & Parole Association has approved NAADAC, the Association for Addiction Professionals as a continuing education provider.

NAADAC is a California Consortium of Addiction Programs & Professionals (CCAPP/CFAAP/CAADAC) Provider #OS-07-100-0816. NAADAC has been approved by National Board of Certified Counselors (NBCC) as an Approved Continuing Education Provider, ACEP No. 5703. NAADAC is solely responsible for all aspects of this program.

This program is Approved by National Association of Social Workers (Approval # 886480326-6137) for 37.5 continuing education contact hours.

For a full list of other state licensure and certification boards accepting NAADAC CEs, please visit www.naadac.org/naadac-ce-acceptance.

INSTRUCTIONS TO RECEIVE CONTINUING EDUCATION HOURS AND CERTIFICATES FOR SESSIONS ATTENDED

1. Track attended sessions and the “Session Words”: In the attendee packet of information, a paper form has been provided for all attendees to keep track of their session attendance. For each session, write down the specific “Session Word” announced at the beginning and end of each session. Without this word, attendees will be unable to receive credit for the session attended. Please note session tracking is solely the responsibility of the attendee; NAADAC cannot be held responsible for this information.

2. Enter attendance info online: Sign-in to your NAADAC profile by visiting www.naadac.org and clicking on the Login button in the upper right-hand corner of the screen. Please be sure to use the same sign-in information used to register for the conference. If you are unable to remember your sign-in information, please use the retrieval link on the sign-in page. Please contact NAADAC at naadac@naadac.org or call 703.741.7686 for assistance.

3. Find the sessions you attended: Once you have successfully logged in, click on the icon to claim your 2018 Annual Conference CEs. You will be prompted to enter your login information again to enter our CE site. Once you have logged in, you will see a list of sessions for the dates that you were registered. Locate and click on the name of the educational session you attended at the 2018 NAADAC Annual Conference in Houston, TX from the list.

4. Complete the Evaluations: By completing the evaluations for a CE certificate you are attesting to attending the associated educational session at the NAADAC Annual Conference. Applying for CE credit for an educational session you did not attend is an ethical violation and NAADAC will pursue offenders.

5. Enter the Session Word for that session, and then complete each evaluation question based on your experience during the educational session.

6. After all evaluation questions are complete, your CE certificate for the educational session will appear automatically for you to print now or save for later, as well as a copy will be emailed to you automatically.

7. Repeat the steps for each educational session attended to obtain all earned CEs for the NAADAC Annual Conference.

INSTRUCTIONS TO RECEIVE CONTINUING EDUCATION HOURS AND CERTIFICATE FOR POSTER PRESENTATIONS

You may receive .25 continuing education (CE) hours for each poster presentation you read. To receive CEs, please use your “Poster Presentation CE Validation Form” to obtain signatures from the authors of the posters you have read. Once finished, please sign and date the form and return to NAADAC in one of four ways:

- In person at the Registration Desk prior to leaving the conference;
- By mail to NAADAC, Attn: 2018 Annual Conference, 44 Canal Center Plaza, Ste. 301, Alexandria, VA 22314; OR
- By fax to 703.741.7698
- By email to naadac@naadac.org.

It is highly recommended that you make a copy of your completed and signed Poster Presentation CE Validation Form for your records before giving it to NAADAC. Signatures from the poster presenters must be obtained for credit to be received. Once the completed form is received, NAADAC will email your certificate to you within 3-4 weeks.

Poster presenters will be standing with their posters on Saturday from 7:00 am – 8:00 am and 12:30 pm – 2:30 pm, and on Sunday from 7:30 am – 8:30 am and 11:45 am – 1:45 pm.

Questions about the CE process? Please visit www.naadac.org/ac18-ces or contact Allison White at awhite@naadac.org.

Pre-Conference Session          Plaza I
Understanding Medication-Assisted Treatment in Recovery
CE HOURS: 7
Darryl S. Inaba, PharmD, CATC V, CADC III
Medication-Assisted Treatment (MAT) includes maintenance pharmacotherapy, replacement therapies, chemically assisted detoxification or recovery, agonist mediated “anti-priming” treatments, pharmacologic restoration of neuro-homeostasis, addiction vaccines, pharmacogenomics, and genetic treatment that “reset” the addicted brain. These terms would have been incomprehensible or even oxymoronic to the recovery field just a few short years ago. Recent advances in understanding and acceptance of addiction as a chronic persistent medical disorder resulting from anomalous neurocellular, neurochemical and neurofunctional elements in vulnerable individuals has resulted in an explosive growth of clinical and medical treatment resources targeted to address both the cortical (conscious) and the sub-cortical (instinctive) brain processes involved in addiction. This presentation will review MAT and other developments in addiction treatment, as well as the challenges to sustain continued abstinence (relapse prevention).

Pre-Conference Session          San Felipe
Basics of Addiction Counseling: Pharmacology of Psychoactive Substance Use Disorders
CE HOURS: 7
Deborah Fenton-Nichols, EdD, LPC, LAC, NCC
The purpose of this workshop is to introduce addiction counselors and other helping professionals to the study of pharmacology and to increase their familiarity with the signs and symptoms of psychoactive substances. Before pharmacology can be explored, it is important to understand the direct connection between psychoactive substance use, brain functioning, and addiction. This workshop is not intended to make clinicians or service providers experts in pharmacology. However the information presented will provide facts that can assist in the assessment, treatment, and referral of clients.

Pre-Conference Session          Tanglewood
Clinical Supervision: A Relational and Individualized Approach
CE HOURS: 7
Thomas Durham, PhD
Effective clinical supervision is a mutual endeavor of clinical oversight and professional growth. It is a process that conceptualizes learning for the counselor that involves much more than monitoring a counselor’s work. This workshop is an overview of NAADAC’s new manual, Clinical Supervision: A Self-Study Guide and Workbook and will demonstrate the processes of supervision that make it an essential component in effective clinical care. Areas of focus include: relational dynamics; individualized approaches and strength-based competencies – all hallmarks of skill development through evidence-based supervision that ultimately leads to effective client care. The workshop will be interactive and comprise a combination of didactic presentations, class discussions, and small group experiential exercises.

Pre-Conference Session          Bellaire
Wholehearted Journey to Ethics
CE HOURS: 7
Maeve O’Neill, MEd, LCDC, LPC-S, CDWF
Wholehearted Journey to Ethics is an experiential workshop to explore the journey behavioral health professionals take to grow personally, professionally and in the organizations they work. Using the research-based resilience components from Brené Brown’s curriculum, we will apply tools to our daily work. Behavioral health professionals have a tough job meeting the needs of patients, their families, collateral contacts, referral sources and regulatory agencies. This is the source of ethical issues. It is critical to focus on self awareness and care of ourselves as we practice well-being within our teams. It is even more critical that organizations practice these components to develop healthy organizational cultures where staff can be well. We will practice methodology of a wholehearted life by being vulnerable, authentic and rising after failing. The behavioral health industry can be better served by approaching workforce and workplace issues in a cohesive and comprehensive approach that is offered in this curriculum. We are starting a movement and hope you will join us!

Telebehavioral Health Legal & Ethical Best Practices: Dos and Don'ts

Marlene Maheu, PhD

This innovative, fast-moving yet introductory workshop will provide a practical overview of telebehavioral health laws and evidence-based techniques required by the NAADAC ethical code. Legal issues covered will include licensure, informed consent, mandated reporting, malpractice carriers, HIPAA, HITECH, privacy and confidentiality. Ethical issues will include boundaries, competence and client/patient education techniques. Practical issues include conducting an online intake, planning for and handling emergencies. Smartphones, iPads, apps, texting & other innovative practice issues will reviewed. Discussions will include examples of skills needed to practice/supervise using videoconferencing. Extensive handouts and references will be provided for audience members. Attend this program to glimpse how you too, can legally and ethically leverage the power and reach of telehealth to lower your overhead, reach more people, and increase your profits — often from home!

Sponsored by the Levenson Foundation

Letter to My Mother is a visual and literary body of work created by artist Braniislav Jankic that reveals an impactful look into the lives of mothers suffering from addiction in the Untied States. The project strives to lift the stigma of addiction and create an international support system for those suffering from this disease, particularly mothers.

When the artist’s mother, a former prescription drug and alcohol addict, was diagnosed with lung cancer in November 2012, Jankic, who had experienced his own struggles with addiction throughout his teenage years, began writing a letter to his mother expressing his regrets for their dismantled relationship and his misunderstanding of her struggles, hoping to show both love and forgiveness.

The short film was shot during the first exhibition of the project in New York in June of 2016. Join artist Braniislav Jankic, producer Goran Macura, Ben Levenson of the Levenson Foundation, and Sherri Layton, MBA, LCDC, CCS, for a viewing of the film and a panel discussion.

MORNING BREAKOUT SESSIONS

Breakout Session Bellaire
TRACK: PHARMACOTHERAPY
America Wakes Up - The Opioid Crisis and Its Impact on Our Country
CE HOURS: 1.5
Matthew Feehery, LCDC, MBA
Drug overdose is the leading cause of accidental death in the US; 63,000 people died in 2017 and opioids account for 70% of the total. Physicians and healthcare professionals are struggling to reverse 20 years of opioid prescribing practices while looking for alternative medications to effectively treat acute and chronic pain. What actions can counselors and healthcare providers take to help patients find relief and appropriate treatment for opioid overdose and opioid use disorder? What are effective approaches besides opioids for treating and managing chronic pain? This presentation will explore education, prevention, screening, intervention, and treatment options that offer sensible policies to manage and deliver compassionate and effective healthcare in the midst of the opioid crisis.

Breakout Session San Felipe
TRACK: CLINICAL SKILLS
Behavioral Approaches For Substance Use Disorder Group Process CE HOURS: 1.5
Deborah Harkness, MS, LAADC, CATC
This session will define the parameters of psycho-educational groups, skills development groups, cognitive-behavioral/problem-solving groups, support groups, and interpersonal process groups. It will identify and discuss the fundamental steps of the group treatment process. It will explain implementation of clinical practices in the group treatment process. In addition, the session will examine the benefits and problems of each orientation to be described. Finally, there will be direction and discussion of the application and practice of these techniques in the group counseling process.

Breakout Session Sage
TRACK: RECOVERY SUPPORT
Military/Veterans SUD Resources and Rationale CE HOURS: 1.5
Ron Pritchard, CSAC, CAS, NCAC II
This session will focus on providing the attendee with an exploration of the current substance use disorder program resources, obstacles, and treatment philosophies within the Department of Defense. Presenter Ron Pritchard will also discuss workforce status and provide an overview of the possible impact and future trends of substance use on the military and veteran population.

Breakout Session Tanglewood
TRACK: CO-OCCURRING DISORDERS
ADHD and Substance Use Disorders: Practical Steps to Understanding and Improving Treatment CE HOURS: 1.5
Laura Walsh, PsyD
The effective treatment of Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) in conjunction with co-occurring substance use disorders has long plagued professionals, their patients, and their patients’ families. Psychostimulants are the most common treatment modality but often contribute to the cycle of relapse. Untangling these issues can be a long and arduous road. Dr. Laura Linebarger is an expert in the treatment of substance use disorders, process and behavioral issues, and ADHD in adults. This presentation illustrates the nuanced differences between the symptoms of each issue, describes the regulatory interactions between ADHD and substance use, and offers a balance of practical strategies and tools for managing symptoms of ADHD while navigating the process of recovery at different stages.
Coaches live in the ethical gray area of recovery support services. This breakout will explore our varied definitions of ethics and test them against highly relevant case examples.

Breakout Session Richmond

Project-Based Learning in Research Courses
CE HOURS: 1.5
Therissa Libby, PhD
Students in addiction studies programs are expected to embrace evidence-based practices, and must therefore know what constitutes valid evidence. Educators foster deeper understanding and enhanced critical thinking about research when we incorporate research proposals and projects into our courses. In this workshop, participants examine options and share experience on project-based learning in research courses in addiction studies programs, with specific examples from both graduate and undergraduate courses.

Breakout Session West Alabama
TRACK: PRACTICE MANAGEMENT
Impacting National Addiction & Recovery Policy & Legislation – What You Can Do at Home & in DC
CE HOURS: 1.5
Sherri Layton, MBA, LCDC, CCS & Michael Kemp, NCAC I, ICS, CSAC, CSW
More attention than ever is being paid to substance use disorder policy issues, with important legislation and funding currently being considered on state and national levels. NAADAC’s Public Policy Committee Co-Chairs will discuss current national issues – workforce, veterans, healthcare are a few - and your associations’ involvement to move legislation forward. Each addiction professional has an ethical responsibility to advocate on behalf of policy that benefits those we serve. We will discuss practical ways you can be involved, both in Washington, DC and, most importantly, in your local district. Please join us to learn what you can do!

Improving Opioid MAT Prescribing Readiness
CE HOURS: 1.5
Todd Molfenter, PhD
Pharmacotherapy/Medication Assisted Therapy (MAT) is an evidenced-based practice for opioid use disorders (OUDs). Yet, well under 50% of individuals with OUDs receive this treatment in substance use disorder treatment programs. This workshop will use experiences and data from over 100 organizations to describe how to assess organizational and counselor readiness for OUD MAT. Preferred organizational supports for opioid agonist treatment will be explained along with a clinician decision-making model that provides a point-by-point analysis of what facilitates and impedes clinicians in prescribing OUD MAT. This workshop is for those wanting to start or expand their OUD MAT programs.

Worlds Apart - What Works in Adolescent Treatment and Why
CE HOURS: 1.5
James Campbell, LPC, CAC II, MAC
Sometimes adolescents can seem as though they come from an entirely different world, and in some regards they do! There has been a wealth of recent discoveries about adolescent development and learning. Unfortunately, there is frequently a disconnect between what we know works best with adolescents and the treatment modalities we use when working with them. This session reviews recent research and discoveries and explores how to best apply that knowledge to effectively treat adolescents. There is also an emphasis on practical application.

TRACK: RECOVERY SUPPORT
Resilient Families: How Communities Can Cultivate Adaptability Within Family Systems
CE HOURS: 1.5
Karyl Sabbath, PhD, LICDC, LAC
Recovery for families involves the positive managing of stressors, coping with changing roles, and the availability of support. We will examine how learning to cope with manageable stress is critical for the development of resilience. Communication and community support will be highlighted as essential to family members building biological resistance to adversity and experiencing resilient outcomes. Community performance of bonding, bridging, and linking is critical to family members’ cultivation of stability and finding a rhythm in family life with confidence to manage change. To conclude the session, participants will discuss community-based programming that can be used to enhance resilience among families.

Neuroscience Introduces Physiological Brain Treatment to SUD and Addiction
CE HOURS: 1.5
Judi Kosterman, PhD
Truly integrative medicine for SUD/addiction is now here! Non-pharma/non-invasive physiological brain treatment, brings science-based discussion and treatment to SUD/addiction as a “brain condition.” Compound by the Opiate National Health
Emergency, SUD/addiction have are treated primarily through behavioral health modalities, sometimes with medication assistance. Protocols now based in non-pharma, physiological science bring data-driven results to suffering individuals as they are combined with science-based behavioral health therapies. The current state of the research, treatment, outcomes, legislation and payors involved with Magnetic EEG/EKG-guided Resonance Therapy (MeRT) will be presented with discussion of the concrete way in which NAADAC members can now get directly involved.

Grant Writing 101
CE HOURS: 1.5
Bruce Reed, PhD, LCDC, CRC & Miranda Lopez PhD(c), MA
The ability to acquire external funding through grants is a valuable skill to have and it is a skill that can be learned, developed, and improved. This presentation will provide the basics of writing a winning proposal. Included in the presentation will be “how to build a case,” writing in a specific, descriptive style, an examination of common calls for proposals, and how to create an essential outline directly related to the call for proposal. Also covered will be the typical grant proposal review process - the more a grant writer can think like a reviewer, the greater the chances of success. Common sources of grant funding, including federal and foundation course, as related to addictions prevention and treatment will be discussed and resources related to these competitions will be shared.

Eating Disorders 101
CE HOURS: 1.5
Malcolm Horn, LCSW, LAC, MAC
This presentation will inform clinicians about eating disorders, including how common they are and what the clinical indications are for treatment. Although eating disorders have been recognized for decades, their diagnosis, understanding, and prevalence across cultures and gender is on the rise. This presentation will help practitioners gain an understanding of the diagnostic features, appropriate treatment interventions, and the psycho-pathology behind the disorders.

Harm Reduction: Are We Ready For It? Lessons from Portugal
CE HOURS: 1.5
Eluterio Blanco, Jr., MAC, LADC & Rachita Sharma LPC-S, CRC
Until 1999, Portugal had the second-highest rate of drug use in Europe, with nearly 1% of its population using. In 2001, Portugal radically changed its drug policy by decriminalizing drug possession and use. The government shifted from a traditional punishment approach to a revolutionary treatment model that serves as a case study on drug policy. Participants in this seminar will learn about the complexity of this issue through a lecture presentation and personal anecdotes of the presenter who engaged in a 10-day seminar accessing the institutions, charities, and specialists who helped navigate the many different sides of the war on drugs in Portugal, as well as an interactive assessment to determine if harm reduction policy changes are a viable option in the U.S.

CE HOURS: 1.5
Elizabeth Shilling, PhD, LPC & Laura Veatch PhD, LPC, LCAS, CCS
Peer Support Specialists (PSS) provide unique and critical services to individuals with substance use disorders. This presentation will review substance-related services at one hospital and how a team of clinical addiction specialists integrated two peer support specialists into these existing services. Participants will learn about the service definitions for peer support, unique training and supervision needs of peers, ethical considerations for integrating peer services, and the challenges associated with adding peer support services in a hospital setting. Additionally, participants will hear about the impact of peers on patient care and patient outcomes, including testimonials from patients who have worked with the peers.

Update on the Neuroscience of Addiction
CE HOURS: 1.25
Darryl S. Inaba, PharmD, CATC V, CADC III
The science of substance-related and addictive disorders has now become “mainstream” in public awareness and that is helping to both erode its stigma and in spite innovative new treatment approaches. Genetic, epigenetic, pharmacology, brain imaging, and other research techniques/tools validate addiction and even its recrudescence (relapse) episodes as being due to neurobiological variances in those who experience addiction. This presentation will explore the evolving science of addiction and hope to explain how it is changing the way we look at substance-related and addictive disorders, as well as how its management is also changing. It will also present the neuroplasticity of brain cells that can be observed during the recovery process and provide an update on the tools and processes that help promote sustained recovery.

Client Centered Collaboration and Integrated Care
CE HOURS: 1.5
Carlo DiClemente, PhD, ABPP
The current focus on recovery involves connecting addiction, mental health, and physical health threatening behaviors into an integrated care perspective. There are a variety of ways to approach integration of care. Most models focus on problems or providers. This presentation proposes that effective integrated care models should seek to create a collaborative framework that is truly client/patient centered that can accommodate not only multiple conditions and problems, but also client characteristics like readiness to change, self-efficacy, and self-regulation. A dynamic understanding of the personal process of change and recovery, as well as current efforts to create an integrative screener offers a way to organize and track client progress and problems and guide interventions.

Breakthrough Innovations in Opioid Use Disorder Treatment – New Medical Treatment Standards for OUD
CE HOURS: 1.5
Wiley Patterson, MD
It is possible to completely prevent opiate overdose death and reduce alcohol and opiate cravings 80–100% with naltrexone, a safe, non-addictive, generic, well studied prescription medication with a very low side effect profile. In addition, patients’ mood improves within hours, daily activity functionality improves straightaway, and patients engage in therapy at a much higher level. How naltrexone works in a clinical setting will be covered in practical detail, discussing indications, side effects, pharmacology, different forms of administration, including naltrexone implants, and the psychology of its use so you can achieve such results in your practice.

Medicine Wheel & 12 Steps: A Cultural Approach to Personal Recovery
CE HOURS: 1.5
J. Carlos Rivera, CADC-II
The Medicine Wheel & 12 Steps program was developed by White Bison to provide a culturally appropriate 12 step program for Indigenous people, and is based upon teachings of the Medicine Wheel, the Cycle of Life, and the Four Laws of Change. It is designed in a series of modules that enable people to meet their individual needs. As part of the overall cultural approach, participants learn to use traditional cultural practices to assist them in maintaining a healthy, balanced life, free from alcohol and other substance use. The framework allows for the program to be adapted to fit the cultural and spiritual preferences of the people who are participating, and can provide support and direction for those recovering from alcohol use or substance use disorders, or co-occurring disorders.

The majority of individuals in the criminal justice system suffer from a substance use disorder, mental health disorder, or both. Mainstream society does not look kindly upon these individuals because of the stigma surrounding the ever popular debate of choice vs. disease. The DSM-5 explains how these disorders tend to overlap. Many treatment methods have been developed to combat behavior choices, but many programs do not understand how integrated treatment may be the best and most effective approach.

Caring for the Caring: Organizational Policies to Support Providers working with Trauma Survivors
CE HOURS: 1.5
W. David Holden, MTh, MA, MPH
Caregivers working with trauma survivors frequently struggle with compassion fatigue. Employers often encourage caregivers to cultivate resilience through self-care, but organizations may structure the work of caregivers in ways that reduce or intensify compassion fatigue. This presentation describes factors contributing to compassion fatigue and recommends organizational policies to reduce it. Ideal policies should attend closely to caregivers’ emotional responses to their clients and work environment. Examples of such policies include the expectation of ongoing clinical supervision, customary practice of evidence-based self-care techniques during the course of the working day, and generous provision of mental health services for caregivers.

The understanding of sex addiction as a mental health problem has paralleled a growing acceptance of multiple addictions, including substances and behaviors. It is important to explore how multiple addictions interact in order for our clients to have successful outcomes from treatment. Sometimes clients use one of their addictions to mask or dismiss the other, perhaps more shameful addiction, or may work on intensifying one another. This workshop is designed to assess, explore, and provide appropriate treatment for individuals with multiple addictions.

Recent increases in anxiety, depression, and distractibility appear related to staying connected with others in real-time through social media. These symptoms, within the context of social networking, has been described as a subset of anxiety from a “fear of missing out” (FoMO). The compulsive use of mobile phones to mediate this anxiety through frequent social media use has raised questions about personality functioning, behavioral addiction, and comorbidities. Recent research reported moderate levels of neuroticism predicted FoMO. This research was expanded to evaluate other personality dimensions influencing FoMO and whether low levels of psychological well-being was an additional factor. Facilities and professionals, unarmed with secular narratives for 12 Step facilitation, may find themselves in the litigious cross-hairs of First Amendment violation lawsuits that have targeted drug/alcohol court judges, parole officers, and treatment centers with awards of up to $2 million. Furthermore, cultural humility fosters accommodation and sensitivity to diverse cultural backgrounds and worldviews. “But What Do We Tell the Children?” Cannabis Teaching Pedagogy in an Era of Change

Vanessa Alleyne, PhD & Sue Seidenfeld, MS, LCADC, MAC, CCS

The landscape of teaching about cannabis has been ruptured by new knowledge. Recent history of teaching about marijuana has tended to focus on its illegality and labeling as a ‘gateway drug’ leading to use of other more dangerous substances. However, the zeitgeist has turned sharply in another direction. As quickly as new knowledge about the dangers of cannabis on adolescent brain development is absorbed, we then learn about yet another new physical benefit to be derived from medicinal marijuana. The inherent conflict which now exists between marijuana pros and cons makes for complicated teaching pedagogy. As marijuana becomes increasingly decriminalized or legalized, we need to present facts and research information to all who increasingly perceive reduced harm with use of this drug.

Although behavioral health services are considered an essential healthcare benefit, access to services is often hindered, especially in frontier and rural areas. One approach to bridging this gap has emerged as a result of advances in technology and increased availability and access to the Internet. Using technology-based interventions to deliver behavioral health services, including substance use disorders treatment and recovery support, is impacting how behavioral health professionals deliver treatment services and what constitutes typical standards of care. However, these growing trends towards using technology-based interventions to deliver behavioral health services raises specific practice concerns that agency administrators and staff need to take into consideration. This two-part training series will first introduce technology-based interventions related to substance use disorders and then dig deeper into ethical considerations for professionals in the behavioral health field.

The Recovery To Practice (RTP) Initiative is taking the state of Texas by storm! With a thriving virtual Facebook community of 900 plus addiction professionals and trained peer providers from across the state and beyond, RTP is your connection point for all things recovery! Come join us! The RTP NAADAC post-conference session will help bring principles of recovery into your practice as a professional, or peer provider. Sessions include: The History of Recovery, ROSCs, Many Pathways to Recovery, Medication Assisted Recovery, Cultural Diversity, Trauma Informed Care, and the Role of Peers in Recovery. RTP was birthed out of a SAMHSA initiative in 2009. Under a grant from the Hogg Foundation, the Rehab and Health Services Dept at UNT is providing FREE RTP curriculum for addiction professionals, by partnering with TAAP, NAADAC, and colleges across the state.
