What emotion is present for you now?

Imagine that emotion outside your body.

Close your eyes and envision it.

What does that emotion look like?

Consider its shape, texture, form, depth, structure.

Put the form on paper.

Once you do that, sit with the emotion and write, using the voice of the emotion.

What does that feeling want you to know?